Commissioner.

Office of the Commissioner on Special Duty,
Bangalore, Dated, 9th January 1951.

Dear Shri

It is necessary that all matters which are still pending in correspondence with the Government of India, and require the Centre's approval for further action by Mysore Government are brought to final disposal as early as possible, before the close of the current official year. Although a few subjects of this nature have been from time to time referred to this office for being pursued with the Central Government and these have been since disposed of, it is desirable that a careful examination is now made by you in consultation with the Head of the Department concerned, of important matters which are still pending or which have to be initiated and taken up with the Centre in the best interests of the State. These may be items involving lines of policy suited to meet the needs of the State, or financial benefits to the Department and the State, or improvement of the services and facilities available to the people. In several cases it may be stated that unless initiative is taken by the State, the matters may not come up for disposal by the Centre and the claims and interests of the State may be lost by default A few subjects, in their general aspect, which have been approve by the Chief Minister for being pursued with the Centre are noted below*. Doubtless there might be other important subject in each Department requiring to be dealt with at high levels.

i) Proposals for the integration and administration of National Highways.

ii) Proposals for promoting and facilitating the export trade and increase of Coffee in Mysore State.

iii) (a) Proposals for assistance for industrial development and technical aid requirements.

(b) Proposals for securing substantial portion of Commonwealth and International South-East Asia Development aid.

iv) Problems connected with integration of Military, Railways, Central Excises and Income Taxes Departments and their administration in coordination with State's requirements.

v) Problems connected with the Foreign Trade and purchases of Mysore Government and industries, in U.K. and U.S.A.

vi) Transport, Irrigation and Agricultural Development proposals.

It is requested that you will kindly make an examination of the position in respect of each of the Departments dealt/ with in your Secretariat in consultation with the Head of the Department concerned, in the light of the above mentioned remarks and furnish a list of subjects (along with a clear note on each subject) which may usefully be taken up with the Centre. The list may include matters already under correspondence with or approved by Government to be taken up with the Government of India as also those which have not yet been submitted for the approval of Mysore Government for such pursuit. In the latter case, the necessary orders of Government have to be obtained in due course but the preparation and furnishing of the list need not be delayed.

It is requested that the list with the notes be sent to this office on or before the 20th January 1951.

Yours sincerely,

E V Ganapati Hy)

Shri . . . .
